

Let's get to work!

Nearly 69,000 Iowans have experienced vision loss. But this doesn't mean accepting "limitations". And it doesn't mean giving up your job – or not qualifying for a new one. Like all Iowans, people who are visually impaired hold jobs, raise families and live productive lives.

Through innovative vocational rehabilitation, the Iowa Department for the Blind has matched thousands of Iowans and employers for positions from construction to teaching.
